2. Additional Comments

This State Conference marks the one-year anniversary since grassroots activists successfully pushed for the formal recognition of Victorian Multicultural Labor (VML) within the Party.

The past year has been one of success for VML. We have elected our inaugural Executive, participated in our first campaigning for multicultural candidates, and held a launch event attended by over 200 activists and Party and community leaders. We again thank the federal and Victorian Multicultural Affairs Ministers Andrew Giles and Ingrid Stitt and Victorian Ministers Harriet Shing and Enver Erdogan for their contributions at our launch.

This year and the next, our conversations across the Party will intensify further as we seek to do more for culturally diverse representation in politics. As the remainder of this report makes clear, we are committed to working with the Party to implement a comprehensive Cultural Diversity Action Plan, while also advocating for mechanisms that will have a meaningful impact on increasing the number of elected representatives and Party leaders who are culturally diverse.

We take this opportunity to recognise the contributions of all members of VML, but also acknowledge the hard work put into our projects and events by all our other Executive members: Nildhara Gadani (secretary), Aman Gaur (assistant secretary), Rumaan Baryalai, Wesa Chau, Srinivasa Sharma and Rachel Tian.

We look forward to continuing our work. Representation matters and it is now crucial that our politics represents our cultural diversity.

3. Resolution: Cultural Diversity Action Plan

Motion: That State Conference resolves to adopt the Victorian Labor Cultural Diversity Action Plan as drafted.

Moved: Wallace Huang (Fraser FEA)

Seconded: Hafiz Jan (SDA)

VML acknowledges the work of our Cultural Diversity Action Plan subcommittee members, Wesa Chau, Aman Gaur, Rachel Tian, Hafiz Jan and Wallace Huang. We also gratefully acknowledge the support of Nicola Castleman and Party Office on the Cultural Diversity Action Plan consultation and drafting process.

4. Resolution: Cultural Diversity Affirmative Action Working Group

Motion

That State Conference resolves that a Cultural Diversity Affirmative Action Working Group (the Working Group) be created with the following terms of reference:

1. Development of a proposed rule change that would implement affirmative action targets for cultural diversity in the Party in accordance with principles as follows:
 - 1.1. A minimum percentage target that takes into account the cultural diversity of Victoria relative to its current representation within the Party, and would result in an increase on that representation;
 - 1.2. A scope that includes public office preselection and party positions elected on a statewide basis;
 - 1.3. Eligibility criteria designed to focus on increasing the representation of multicultural cohorts that are underrepresented in the scope outline in paragraph 1.2 by reference to their broader community population;
 - 1.4. Eligibility to be based on a member's identification(s) of their cultural background at the point of joining or renewing their membership;
 - 1.5. Noting the importance of intersectionality, a design such that the 50 per cent affirmative action target for women's representation, and any other affirmative action targets that are created concurrently or in future, are maintained in full;
2. Membership of the Working Group to consist of five representatives from each of:
 - 2.1. The Victorian Multicultural Labor Network Executive, whose co-convenors shall chair and convene meetings of the Working Group;
 - 2.2. The Multicultural Affairs & Population Policy Committee;with two further observing representatives from the Rules Revision Committee whose role shall be to advise the Working Group;
3. Consideration of developing a combined rule change proposal with any other working groups that may be developing affirmative action rule changes, with the aim of achieving consistency in design;
4. Circulation of the proposed rule change to appropriate constituent units of the Party prior to the deadline for proposed rule changes before the next meeting of State Conference (or submission of the proposed rule change from the Multicultural Affairs & Population Policy Committee if it resolves to do so).

Background

Labor is the party of multicultural Victoria because we have achieved so much in advancing inclusion. Now we must build on our achievements by seizing the opportunity to also be the only political party that substantively reflects Victoria's cultural diversity.

In doing so we will reinforce Labor's mission of equal opportunity and participation in our democracy. We will also build Labor's future by gaining the valuable perspective of people with lived experience in multicultural communities.

Advancing greater cultural diversity among representatives of our party is an urgent priority because Victoria is rapidly becoming more culturally diverse.

Almost one in two Victorians - and one in two of all Australians - are now either born overseas or have at least one parent born overseas. As reported in Fairfax media, about a quarter of all Australians have a non-European, non-Indigenous background, compared to around 7% of Victorian Labor and 10% of Federal Labor parliamentarians.

Labor's proud history with affirmative action shows that if we say we are serious about reflecting diversity, we need mechanisms to ensure our actions reflect our aspirations. A mandated target is the best way to improve culturally diverse representation at the pace we need.

We also know that we need to get this proposal for cultural diversity affirmative action right. A working group which centres the experiences of those from multicultural backgrounds ensures that the proposal will be well-considered and reflect the best of Labor's values.

Victorian Labor has the unique opportunity to lead the way in our politics and demonstrate that we are the only party with a real commitment to culturally diverse representation. By creating a Cultural Diversity Affirmative Action Working Group, we can take a huge step towards fulfilling our values and building our future.

ANY OTHER ITEMS

- After discussion at our executive meeting, Victorian Young Labor mobilised hundreds of our members to campaign for the Dunkley By-election in 2024, organising doorknocks and helping out on booths during prepoll and on election day. Our members were involved at all levels on the campaign and the executive worked hard to bring members to campaign events. We were pleased with the efforts of our members in helping secure a victory in Dunkley.
